Del Mar Terrace Undergrounding Project

San Diego Unwired

When we bury those jumbles of wire,
Neighborhood pride will grow higher;
In Hillcrest or La Jolla
No poles like sequoia,
But vistas of sky to inspire.

San Diego, well-known for great views,
Is spreading the happiest news:
We'll take down the poles,
Resurface all holes,
Stop singing those "Cluttered Sky Blues."

To Harry sincere thanks we owe,
He helped make our project a "go."
We've spent months and years
And now shout three cheers,
Harry Mathis --- a jolly fellow!

Scott P. and Frank B. were there, too,
As our tasks and commitments grew.
A "pilot project" these labors,
Council, staff, and dear neighbors,
Together our dream has come true.

This neighborhood set its sights high
To rid graffiti from out our blue sky.
Nancy led the way
And we thank her today
As we kiss the first pole "bye-bye."
